

beyond the parmo

The changing face of food culture
in Middlesbrough

Middlesbrough Food Summit

Wednesday 15th November
The Hub, Teesside University Students' Union

Menu

Starters

Registration, networking and meet local producers 9.30am

Mains

Dave Budd – Elected Mayor of Middlesbrough 10.05am

Opening of the event and official launch of the Middlesbrough Food Action Plan

Martin Caraher – Professor of Food and 10.15am

Health Policy, City University London

Focusing on the positives and opportunities for the food sector amidst Brexit, and the benefits of integrating and delivering healthy and sustainable food policies

Mark Fishpool – Middlesbrough Environment City 10.45am and Chair of Middlesbrough Food Partnership

Middlesbrough Food Partnership and what it has achieved

Pam Warhurst – Founding member of 10.55am

Incredible Edibles

The power of small ideas - how a bit of growing has inspired thousands, improved communities and could be the future of local food

Local refreshments, more networking 11.25am and meet local producers

The benefits of buying local in the 11.40am independent sector

A conversation with Dave Beattie (Rounton's Coffee), Caroline Bell (Acorn Dairy) and Peter Walker
(The Curing House)

beyond the parmo

The changing face of food culture
in Middlesbrough

Middlesbrough Food Summit

Wednesday 15th November
The Hub, Teesside University Students' Union

Specials

Workshop and round table discussions – A 12.10pm

Choose one of four sumptuous workshops on local case studies and replicable best practice, and discuss the key issues with those that are leading by example. So you don't miss out, we are giving you another opportunity to choose a different workshop after a tasty local lunch

Locally sourced lunch, refreshments, networking and meet the producers 1.00pm

Workshop and round table discussions – B 2.10pm

Your second opportunity to participate in another workshop

Desserts

Tour of Middlesbrough's food quarter 3.00pm - 4.30pm

Have a guided walk-through tour of Middlesbrough's vibrant food quarter, visit some of the spectacular food outlets and sample some of their local delights or

Site visit to Warrens Group's anaerobic digestion plant 3.00pm - 5.00pm

Be taken to Newton Aycliffe and have a guided tour of Warrens Group's new state of the art anaerobic digestion facility that recycles food waste into gas, electricity and fertilizer. There are limited places for this trip so please book early to avoid disappointment growing middlesbrough warrens

group

Registered Charity 1070131

